

DON'T LEAVE A LIFETIME'S WORTH OF PROPERTIES AND SAVINGS TO CHANCE

Without a Will:

You cannot be sure those you would wish to benefit will actually do so.

Your spouse / civil partner will not automatically inherit ALL of your estate/

Minor children could be taken into care whilst Guardians are appointed.

There could be lengthy delays for your beneficiaries and disputes.

With a Will:

Even if you have a Will in place does it reflect your current circumstances and wishes?

Have you recently married or divorced?

Will it protect you and your chosen beneficiaries from the following?

Marriage after Death
Long Term Care Fees
Divorce Settlements
Creditors and Bankruptcy
Taxation
